Conditions of Publication of Special Collections Materials

1. All requests will be considered on a case-by-case basis.
2. Permission granted is for a single use of the material(s) in a publication, exhibit, broadcast, or other medium. Subsequent use of the material(s), including reprints or new editions of a publication, requires a separate request for permission to publish. Permission to publish includes use in all media markets only so long as the publisher and the content remain the same. New permissions must be sought for any and all changes in publisher, content, language, format, or medium.
3. Special Collections retains its right to publish these materials and to grant permission to others to do so.
4. Special Collections will assess a use fee for the commercial publication of each item from its collection. Special Collections reserves the right to judge whether a proposed publication is commercial, based on the nature of the publication, the publisher, and the intended circulation. Special Collections also reserves the right to assess a use fee for a scholarly publication if it consists extensively or exclusively of materials from Special Collections.
5. Special Collections reserves the right to limit the number of items to be published.
6. Use fees cover non-exclusive, one time use of a single item unless otherwise indicated and are to be paid in advance of publication. Use fees are assessed in addition to any duplication costs. Rights are not granted in perpetuity.

7. Publication can take place only under the provisions of the fair use doctrine in the U.S. Copyright Law (as amended) or by obtaining permission of the copyright holder, which in some instances may be Special Collections, Honnold/Mudd Library, Claremont University Consortium.
8. Special Collections must be assured that the proposed publication/broadcast will result in a suitable presentation of the original. Alteration of the original is prohibited.
9. No unauthorized copies may be made of the materials provided.
10. All publication of Special Collections materials must bear the credit line which must appear in conjunction with the reproduction:

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS, HONNOLD/MUDD LIBRARY OF THE CLAREMONT COLLEGES

11. Special Collections requests a complimentary copy of any publication, in any medium, that makes use of its materials be given to Special Collections for its collections.
12. THE APPLICANT WILL DEFEND, INDEMNIFY, AND HOLD HARMLESS SPECIAL COLLECTIONS AND CLAREMONT UNIVERSITY CONSORTIUM, ITS BOARD OF GOVERNORS, ITS OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AND AGENTS AGAINST ALL CLAIMS, DEMANDS, COSTS, AND EXPENSES INCLUDING ATTORNEYS' FEES INCURRED BY COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT OR ANY OTHER LEGAL OR REGULATORY COURSE OF ACTION ARISING FROM THE USE OF SPECIAL COLLECTIONS MATERIALS.

Although Special Collections, Honnold/Mudd Library is the owner of the material I wish to reproduce and may grant permission to publish it in that capacity, I understand that it is my responsibility to conform to all copyright laws. By signing this application, I accept personally and on behalf of any organization I represent the conditions set forth above.
